SO HEALTH BOARD

Plan To Check the Death Rate Among the Natives From the use of methylated spirits will be materialy decreased. For years natives have been dying from the use of wood alcohol, the popular name of the spirits. The high price of liquor and beer and the unrestricted sale of wood alco-hol have combined to make the spirits a common drink for the poor inebriate. In the course of a few days, a month or so ago, there were half a dozen deaths from this poison.

When the matter was brought to the attention of the Board of Health a committee consisting of Dr. Cooper and George W. Smith was appointed to draw up recommendations to be sub-mitted to the Legislature. The following was the report of the committee made yesterday:

Dr. J. H. Raymond, President of the

Dr. J. H. Raymond, President of the Board of Health.

Sir: Your committee to whom was referred the matter of the sale of methylated spirits with instructions to frame a recommendation to the Legislature from the Board of Health, beg to report as follows: The sale of methylated and wood spirit has been repeatedly sanctioned by successive Legislatures as a necessary article of commerce to take a necessary article of commerce to take the place of pure alcohol.

The original legislation had in view

The original legislation had in view the prevention of the manufacture of factitious liquors from pure alcohol. At the present time under the United the present time under the United States laws the importation into the Terrifory by anyone of pure alcohol is not and cannot be prohibited and it is now so imported for manufacturing purposes by others than those engaged in the drug business.

The promotion at the present time of the sale of alcohol and the consequent forced sale of methylated spirits, ren-ders this article easy of acquirement and while not properly a poison yet when taken in quantity by those ad-dicted to the use of drink, becomes fa-tal owing to its peculiarly irritating properties when introduced into the

and a common domestic remedy for external application. Methylated spirits cannot be used in medicine or domestic practice, owing to its irritating and offensive properties. No restriction is placed on the sale of alcohol by druggists in the United States and no provision is made in the laws for the preparation or sale of methylated or wood. aration or sale of methylated or wood spirit. Methylated or wood spirit would not be offered for sale in the Territory if the restriction on the sale of pure al-cohol were removed. At no time has the sale of pure alcohol been so large as the restriction of the sale of pure alcohol been so large as to render it dangerous to public health
